A Fun Project with Ronnie Boston

Ronnie Boston will teach carving simple birds this Saturday. There are two different birds to choose from. This should be fun.

HAWC Show Update

Have you marked your calendar with HAWC's 2018 show dates? The 47th Annual HAWC Show, Sale and Competition is scheduled for September 27-29, 2018 at Faith Lutheran Church.

We are in the process of getting instructors at this time.

Volunteers for the Show will be needed for various assignments. To volunteer for the Show contact Buddy Ives, Show Chairman.

President's Message

HAWC had a very good representation at the Texas Woodcarvers Guild show and seminars earlier this month. Two of our newer members entered their work from the club table and placed well in the competition. Jamie Frontiera's relief carved holiday centerpiece won second place in her category, and Ibraheem Husain took first place with his stylized mother and child. You may recall the piece from last month's show-and-tell. The guild, in its wisdom, only has a category for stylized carvings in the Open class, so Ibraheem's work was judged against pieces from some very experienced carvers. Congratulations to them both for representing our club so well.
