Relief Carving with Mike Crosson

Mike Crosson is very experienced at relief carving. This Saturday he will teach a relief carving of grapes, stem and leaves.

Vice President's Message

The HAWC monthly carving classes continue at the May meeting with Mike Crosson teaching an excellent carving. The project is listed as a grape leaf.” However, the carving is a little more than a leaf.

Mike’s project will include a leaf, stem, and a few grapes. Mike says any set of gouges can be used for this carving. He also reports he has a sufficient number of roughouts ready for carvers interested in taking the class.

Our thanks go out to JoAn Brueggeman for teaching the chip carving class at the April meeting. Looking ahead, the June class will be taught by Helen Havemann. Fred Childers will be teaching the July class.

Here's another reminder for the 2019 HAWC Show, Sale and Competition scheduled for Saturday, October 19 at Faith Lutheran Church. Classes will be held the preceding Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Instructors will be Orlando Villarreal, a world class instructor specializing in aquatic and wild-life wood sculptures, and Wanda Reichert, teaching an Orca whale.

Show packets will be going out shortly. The packet will include information on table registration, class registration and competition categories.
