

Fan Birds and Derivatives

This month Fred Childers will show us how to carve fan birds and derivatives. Bring your regular carving tools.

President's Message

Seems a little odd having back-to-back meetings after a year of no meetings. So spread the word and mark your calendar for June 19. It will be a regular meeting scheduled for the usual 9 am to 2 pm at Bayland Community Center. Also, we're back to 100% occupancy for our meeting.

There will be a carving class with Fred Childers teaching a "fan bird" project. Besides Fred's class, there will be a beginners table, a business meeting, "Show and Tell," and general carving on your particular projects.

Thanks go out to Ronnie Boston for teaching the May class. He had a good turnout for his class featuring various Christmas ornaments. We still need volunteer instructors for classes the rest of the year.

Shortly, HAWC members and others will be receiving the registration packet for the 50th annual HAWC Show, Sale and Competition. The Show will be held Saturday, October 16, 2021 at Faith Lutheran Church. Carving classes will be held the Wednesday, Thursday and Friday (Oct. 13, 14 and 15) preceding the Saturday Show.

Orlando Villarreal is returning to the Show to teach his aquatic and wildlife wood sculptures.

Wanda Reichert will return to the Show this year after a brief absence. According to Wanda, she will teach a relief carving project. Carolyn Halbrook will teach chip carving projects during a two-day class. Dallas Deege will teach the third day.

Now for another reminder, it's time to pay 2021 dues, which remains at an annual $20. If our records show you paid 2020 dues, you are exempted from the 2021 dues. Our treasurer reports if you decide to pay 2021 dues it will be listed as a donation.

The HAWC Face Book page provides an excellent opportunity to recruit new members, besides displaying your carvings. The Page produces a high number of visitors, including those visitors claiming to be HAWC members. Therefore, it offers a new member recruiting opportunity.

See you June 19,

Buddy
