President's Message

Oooooops! I missed the April meeting. Sorry about that, but it couldn't be helped.

As you probably know by now I was laid up with a broken leg. There is still some progress to be made but I was released recently from the medical/rehabilitation facility to finish the rehab at home.

Based on the photos sent my way I saw an active April carving group. I also noticed that Ronnie Boston was teaching his class, as well as standing in as the leader for the business meeting and "Show and Tell."

Thanks to Ronnie for taking on both teaching and leading the business session. For the May meeting, Dallas Deege will step into the instructor's position. He will be teaching the techniques for carving a "hand." It will be an informative class, in addition to being one of the unusual class projects we've had. Looking ahead, in June Carolyn Smith will be teaching wood burning, which has been a popular class at previous meetings. Lance Rath will teach a painting class in July. Tools such as brushes that will be required will be announced sooner than later.

At this date, the vacant months for classes are August, September and November. Potential instructors can sign up for one of those months at the May meeting.

We will have a beginner's class. If Pete is unavailable, a volunteer will be on hand for the class.

In the event you've forgotten, our carving Show is scheduled for the third Saturday in October. If you are interested in knowing the date, pull up October 2022 on your calendar and circle the third Saturday. Then, the December meeting will be the HAWC annual Christmas meeting featuring the wood carving gift exchange.

It's my understanding the April meeting attendance was within the normal level for the year. That's a good thing. But we're still behind the pre-covid attendance.

See you May 21,

Buddy
